“ Barb was a bright candle at Good Shepherd Nursing Home. I don't think she ever met a stranger. When I told my children (even one who lives in Vegas and one who lives in Morgantown) of her passing they shared their stories and condolences. She made an impression on everyone she met. Barb had advice to give and love to share. She always put a smile on my face when I walked through the halls of the second floor.

Rest in peace Barb.

“ I would see Barb every morning when I went in to visit my mom at Good Shepard. She would always say Hi Honey and was always pleasant to talk too. My sister and I would sometimes talk to her for a few minutes and she would always give us some funny advice about our husbands when we would say that we would have to go home and cook! It wont be the same at Good Shepard without her and I will never eat another piece of Dove chocolate without thinking of Barb because she really liked her chocolate. God bless you Barb , A friend of Barbs, Carmel
