“ Our hearts are filled with sadness to learn about Mrs. Goddard's passing. Robin and I had the great fortune of having Mrs. Goddard as our teacher at Beallsville High School. Robin had Mrs. Goddard as a volleyball coach and as her Personal Typing teacher, a life-long skill that has served her well in her 40-year career as a registered nurse. My experience with Mrs. Goddard impacted my future more than I could ever imagine. Mr. Ondayko, the principal at BHS, called a group of 10th grade boys into his office to inform us that Study Halls were a waste of time and a waste of an educational opportunity. He changed our schedules to place us into Mrs. Goddard's bookkeeping class. "It's like math and you are going to like it!" He was not wrong! That started my career path that lead me to Muskingum University to major in Accounting and earn my teaching credentials in Business Education. Mrs. Goddard became the first of three business teachers that impacted my entire life and career forever! I work everyday in my classroom with the same enthusiasm that those three teachers did with the hopes that I can ignite, inspire, and set a student on their life's passion to find a career and not just a job! At this time, I am in my 37th year as a business teacher and I even spent some of that time in Mrs. Goddard's position at BHS. We offer her family our sincere condolences, prayers for comfort, and memories to cherish because she was an outstanding woman and an inspiration to her students. Todd and Robin (Lucas) Christman, BHS Class of 1982.

“ Mrs. Goddard was my typing teacher and health teacher at Beallsville. She is THE person who made sure I had the skills to type well—in 1988 we didn’t yet fully understand how important typing would be in daily life in today’s world. That skill helped me succeed in college, graduate school, and law school, and I use it every day. I often think of her when I’m able to type fast and well. In addition, she taught me sex ed. She pulled no punches, didn’t care if we were embarrassed. She told it like it was. In raising my own kid, I often tried to channel her frankness and fearlessness. I’m thankful, 30 years later, that I had her as my teacher. She is missed.
