“ Darleen had been one of my mom's caregivers. Mom told the story about a special set of soft bedsheets which she was saving to use when her old ones wore out. Darleen convinced Mom to start using the new soft sheets, that life is too short. Mom took Darleen's advice. Mom is gone now, as is Darleen. May we all start using our "soft sheets", whatever that may be in our lives. Rest in peace, Darleen. My condolences to Darleen's family and loved ones.

“ My heart breaks for you my dear friend Darlene. From the first time we met , as children and then again as adults we knew that we were destined to become friends. Darlene came into my workplace several months ago to shop at our free store and pretty much didn't want to leave. She sat down beside me on a bench as I worked and did not hesitate to stay by my side working and offering to help me until all of my work was done. Darlene and I talked for hours and soon realized we had lots of friends in common and a love for helping others. When we had rough days at work or in our personal lives, Darlene and I would laugh and refer to ourselves as the Ole bishes. Reminding each other that us Ole bishes needed to stick together. Darlene was devastated when she suddenly became ill and was diagnosed with cancer. Together we had many conversations about life, family and death. Darlene knew that she didn't have much time left here on this earth and as much as she wanted to stay , Darlene also looked forward to meeting the Lord, God and seeing loved ones again. Darlene was courageous, kind, caring , giving and compassionate about others and doing for others. Each time we spoke she reminded me of her love for me and our friendship and made me promise that I would never forget that she loved me and cherished me as her friend. I will miss her smile, her laughter and most of all her friendship and kind heart. Rest Easy Darlene 💔😭 I love you , my friend.
