“ Donald a true character with a heart of gold. Many memories. His excitement as a teenager, helping him work on his Torino as a young about.

In an effort to improve the life of his family he pulled up stakes and moved from Wheeling to live with Sharon and I in California. They lived with us for a few months until his work at the lumber yard stabilized. Then he was able to move his family into an apartment. That was probably his downfall. His wife had a hard wire adjusting to California life and missed her family. He loved his wife so much they pulled up stake, loaded the Torino and headed back to Wheelin, in the middle of winter! I guess he had more drive than his Torino - they made it to Columbus before his car gave up. Do icky hit the road to get his boy and his family.

Can you imagine the party Sam, John, and Sharon are having - with Dom and Mary trying to calm them down - LOL
