“ It is never easy to lose a loved one, but one so young is most difficult. When I first met her I couldn't help but comment on her last name. Mr. Engle had been my son's principal and then Chris became acquainted with him when we returned to this area to retire. May GOD comfort you in your loss now and may her memory live on in those who loved her. Sandy and Chris

“ Somehow it's just not fair the kind ones go first. I knew Mary well in high school. We talked and hung out a little bit. We all knew Mary Lynn suffered, but never did Mary Lynn complain. If you would look into her eyes you would see she was full of love and you would also see her silent suffering. Now my heart is broken. Wish I had been a better friend to her because she deserved the best life could have given her. I sure wasn't the best in high school - but that was then. This is now and now it hurts. My heartfelt sympathies to her family and other friends. Silently praying.

“ Here I sit and cry the passing of my friend. Wondering why her life had to end. Thinking of times we laughed and cried. Knowing her only 4 years is a short time. But the wisdom, honesty and love we shared. I knew when we met she was loving and cared. Now I have memories to help carry on. Her love and compassion will never be gone. So for all who knew her when the tears fall. Be assured God sends her spirit to dry them all. She is loved and missed by so many I know. She'll never be gone her love grows and grows. My deepest and heartfelt sympathy. Diane Duda one of the many who will miss Mary.

“ Dear Ones —How greatly saddened my heart is, to learn of dear Mary's passing. We met at a Valley Hospice bereavement group meeting, not long after the passing of our mothers. We felt comfortable crying together, and we also shared memories and moments of great gladness. I love Mary — she's genuine . . . she's one of God's 'REAL' children. I'm blessed to own a copy of her poetic works, "The Sun Kisses My Face" . . . so lovely are the depths of her soul that she has shared. God bless you, Mary Engle! You are living the words you have written: "I came from God Made in His Image . . . Spirit In Physical Form Far from Perfect I Enjoy the Earth The Sea and Sky I'll go back to Him Rooted in Sweet Essence Through My Love Of His Son Named Jesus." ~ Mle 2004 ~ You're Home at last, Mary! Ever hoping . . . Always in Jesus, Maryann

“ I am so sorry to learn of Mary's passing. We became friends a few years ago before my brother died and her mother passed away. Mary and I went to Pittsburgh one time shoe shopping. We had such a good time. I enjoyed our friendship and was sorry we did not keep in touch. In the words of Emily Dickinson, "Unable are the loved to die for love is immortality." Cindi

“ Oh, I was shocked when I opened this evening paper. What ever happened? I hate to bother you now but please feel free to call us @304-233-8917. I do plan to see you all @ the funeral home. I feel like part of my life is now gone. Is there anything that I can do? Do you need food? I'd be honored to help in any way. Love & prayers, Ginger Kabala.
