“ Growing up across the street from you was some of the best times in my life, sometimes you scared me, but I knew you was a big softy inside. When you took your kids some place you always asked if I wanted to go. You was a good friend to mom and Gene. You will be missed. Lots of love Joy Lowe ”

“ I have so many good memories of you. You always knew that I was the awkward one that was never quite sure where I fit in, you took time with me and assured me that you loved me as your own. I will never forget our walks together when I was pregnant with Eric, I'll never forget our secret milkshake runs. And I definitely will never forget the joy you would get scaring the pants off of us and the grandchildren every chance you and mom would get. I will always remember you feigning a headache , with a big grin on your face every time I started talking because you knew I was gonna talk your ear off. You will never be forgotten by me or my children. (your grandchildren). Thank you for sharing your life with us. You suffer no more. Rest peacefully you will always be in my heart. I love you always.

“ Ev...you was always a good father and always took care of my mother (shelly) you was a little rough around the edges but I am who I am today with a good heart because of you...as you left this world you made a lasting impression on me and the road ahead...I trully wish I could of spent more time with you..I was always so proud when we would be out anywhere and you made it clear to people that I was your son. I now have a life time of good memories of the time we had....as a kid and as a man..I promise you that mom will not be alone... as sure as I am that she will hurt and cry from the loss of her bestfriend and husband...she will not be alone..thank you for just being you ...love and miss you Ev.....Johnny

“Dad, words can not describe the pain that is in my heart right now. I love and miss you so much. I promised you in life, and now I promise you in death, I will be there for Shelly. . Our hearts are broken beyond repair. Growing up, you were a tough man but you did what you did out of love and it made me who I am today. Thank you for all the love and advice that you gave me. I am truly sorry if I ever let you down. I love you.
