“ I love Frank. He was one of the nicest men I have ever known. He could always tell me a story that would make me laugh. Like the one about Ole Lucky the dog. We went on a trip to the Promise Keepers in D.C. We rode in Jim Quinet's van It was night. Frank was lying in the small space where the space where the side door opened. I heard him grunting and moving around down in the cubby hole. I asked him if he needed help getting up. He said, "No I am just trying to turn over.". I still laugh to this day when I think about that.

“ Frank was a very nice person who loved the Lord. He always had a smile and kind words when he spoke to people. I always enjoyed hearing him sing when he was in the mill. You could see how happy it made him to be singing praises to the Lord. God bless his family at this very difficult time.
