“ I had the privilege of playing baseball alongside George in high school at TCHS for two years ('79-'80) and later in slow-pitch softball leagues in and around Middlebourne during the early and mid '80s. What a amazingly gifted and competitive athlete he was!

Even as I'm sitting here, I can still picture him striding up to the plate in slow-pitch softball--and he was physically imposing at that point after high school--because he'd take a long look down the third-base line and give me that cold glare that eventually morphed into an amused grin. I knew what might be coming, and what's worse, he knew that I knew; so I took a deep breath at third base and anticipated the rocket he was capable of launching at me. More often than not, when he chose to send one of those missiles my way, it hissed (and I mean, literally hissed) right past me. When I did manage to snag one, my hand was on fire for the next few innings, and I wasn't sure it was really worth stopping after all.

George, you are (not were) a great guy and friend, and I trust that you're enjoying the presence of the One who created, loved, and redeemed you for His pleasure and glory. Whenever my time comes and it's time to join you, I'm not sure that I'll find a baseball diamond there; but, if I do, I'm sure that you won't be far away.

Well, farewell for now, dear brother. I'll always treasure the few hours that we had to chat at the alumni parade in 2010, but we'll have an eternity to catch up on things one day.

Your friend and brother in Christ,

Thom Houghton (TCHS Class of '80)

“ I will always remember George as one of those parents that never had a bad think to say at the baseball games that I umpired. Even if one of his boys got called out on one of those border line pitches he would give you that should shrug and say that was to close to take. He will truly be missed but you can bet that they need coaches in heaven to and he will be a good one.

“ Shared many class parties, baseball games, basketball games, football games and school functions with this wonderful man. Even when he didn't feel well. Always had a kind word, complement, and smile. Humble man. Fair man. Always enjoyed watching him with his grandchildren. He fought the good fight. Not for himself, but for the love of his family. God Bless and keep you Moore family.

“ I knew George in school. He was a great friend and he enjoyed the game of baseball. My Dad coached youth league for many years and George and the rest of the team always let me practice with them because girls weren't allowed to play. George was always full of encouragement and really taught me a lot about the game. My thoughts and prayers to his family and friends.
