“ Jay “Buck” was full of life, lived “on the edge”, loved riding motorcycles, and had a huge heart. I remember him taking me for a ride on his motorcycle when I was 5. It was the first time I had ridden a bike, he even let me steer a little bit. He would always ask me if I remembered the time he let me steer his bike in the field every time he came to visit. Jay was always willing to lend a hand, when I first moved to Bridgeport, he helped my wife and I fix the house we were moving into.

You were loved and you will be missed, bro!

I will forever reflect on the good times, smiles, and laughs you brought to us all.
