“ Becky, I just read about your mother's passing and my heartfelt sympathies go to you, your father and your brothers. Your mother was an extraordinary woman - look at the family she raised and consider all the wonderful things she and your father did to make you and your brothers the people you are today. You will always carry with you a part of your mother's kindness, wit, compassion, resilience, knowledge and love. Sharing these qualities, her qualities, with those you meet will be the most fitting tribute to her memory. My prayers and thoughts are with your father, you and your extended families.
