*I wrote the day we placed John in the ground but it never posted. I will always love and feel connected to Uncle John. He was a huge influence in my life from the time I was 13. Over the years we became so much more to each other. I am proud to call him Uncle John. I cherish all our visits the many emails and even the phone calls when he would say he couldn't hear me. I know he is walking with his siblings now and parents who went before him. Love ya John
