“ Oh my buddy Joe! When you first came into the office, I knew we would be friends! When the nurse told you the scheduler was calling from an 800 # and you needed to answer it you said, "when a number comes up that I dont know this is what I do" you then opened your phone and closed it! You had me laughing so hard. You even said my name the same way my Pappy did! tabida lol. You stopped every morning of treatment to chit chat with me and even brought your son and #1 buddy in and introduced me to them. You would text me on occasion to let me know how you were doing and even brought me a Christmas card. When you were admitted for your gallbladder and you texted me I went straight up after work and sat with you and even helped you understand what the doctor who visited while I was there said! Your memory will live in my heart forever! As you said before you get to finally be with your wife again! I know that reunion was joyous! I only wish I had known you had passed sooner. Your friend Tabida (Tabitha Bradac) My deepest sympathies to your entire family!
