“ She was like a Grandma to me. I've known her since I was little. She was a great friend to my grandparents and also a neighbor for a long time. I used to clean for her and would put up her Christmas tree every year. We would sit in the kitchen afterwards n have lunch and talk. I lost her once in walmart n started to panic. She was outside sitting on the bench.

After her son died she moved back to Florida. We wrote letters back and forth a couple times a month and I went to visit her when I went to Florida on my honeymoon in October of 2014. She was so excited to see me.

I will miss her more than words can say.
