“ I remember doing the hotdog dance, and eating tomatoes with him. I was his little buddy. I miss him, but he's in a better place now. Even though I need him with me.

*To Tony, Brian, Angel and family,
I am so sorry for your loss. I remember one night at church I was talking to Woody. He was remembering the old days and told me a story about my husband, Jim. He made the story so real that I could not help but laugh.
May the memories of Woody give you some comfort during this time. Church will not be the same without him.
