“ What I always remember about Lou was how much fun and entertaining he was. He always made sure that everyone that was with him enjoyed life as much as he did.

“ As '64 classmates at CCHS , I hardy knew Lou. But years later, as adults, our paths crossed and this is when I was lucky to finally be a friend. Better late than never Lou would say. His dedication to his family, especially Rylee, was without waiver and with as much love as anyone could have. His position at the "Downs" he held with pride and commitment. Attending his retirement party was special for me and asking him if he was sure, the reply was "I'm ready!" He knew when the time was right. To Cindy, the love of his life, to his son and grandson please accept my deepest sympathy. Live your lives as strong as Lou lived his.
