“ Uncle Ray...I remember you fondly. Though we didn't see each other much over the years, I remember your stories and making me laugh. Into God's hands, you are home and with those that have gone before you.

“ I will always remember Ray's quck wit and teasing demeanor. I love him. We all do. I'm sorry he's gone but I'm grateful Edna and Pam made sure he was cared for in his failing years. I'm grateful they were with him when he passed. Praying for comfort and peace to all!

“ His obituary also left out his four stepchildren (by marriage) of 20 years: Robert Fonner, Jr., Kristen Fonner Mohr, Jessica Fonner Dial and Jason Fonner. Ray was our dad for 20 years. No one can replace that or take that away. Ty very much!

Hope it hurts since you underhandedly kept Nancy's grandkids out of her funeral and their mother that should've been there holding her crying kids over their grandma not some crack head stand in. Reap what you sow.

“ This obituary leaves out his two step-daughters, Gina Popelas and Tina Darkangelo. His biological daughter's name is Julie Schuler. His two grandsons are Matthew Schuler and Justin Schuler. Nearly twenty years ago I sent him a letter with their names and pictures and address. That letter received no reply. My condolences to his loved ones.

“ There's so much that has come flooding back. The Halloween parades where I led the pony while your rode. Lying in bed in the winter and laughing as we watched snow blow in under the window. When you were a toddler me pretending to be a horse and you the cowboy. Love you brother. Even though we lived miles apart there was always an assurance I new right where you were. I already miss that. Nevertheless, I'm looking forward to getting together again and rehashing our cherished memories.

God's Peace is upon you. 'til the next time.
