I had the privilege to grow up just a stone throw from the Ryncarz homestead in Green Acres and have fond memories of Rich. Rich Ryncarz was an unassuming man of few words who rarely spoke unless spoken but when he spoke people listened because he exuded an intelligence that one could learn from. An intelligence that allowed he and his lovely wife Mary, to raise not only a Doctor but a lawyer as well. If memory serves me correct, the last time I had the privileged of talking to Rich was about 7 or 8 years ago when I stopped at Carte's Service station on a visit back to town. Much to my delight Rich was there hanging out and after sharing pleasantries, we proceeded to spend the next hour solving the world's problems from the local political landscape to current state of the nation. It was also evident by the look in his eyes how proud he was of his two sons when I inquired about Dick and Tom but in keeping with the way about him, he said little other then they were doing fine and he was proud of them. Prior to departing, I surprised him with my memories of his own parents Thomas and Thelma whose home overlooking Madison and Monroe, I had the pleasure of visiting numerous times as a youth when I ran around with Dick. Little did I know when I told him goodbye it would be the last time. Make no mistake they don't make many men like Rich Ryncarz anymore. Rest well my friend . rest well. You ran a great race!
