“ I have been thinking for the last two days on what to say about my dad. When I was a kid he made me feel safe and loved. As a teen I thought I was smarter than him. Even though we all know I was not. As a adult he was a great friend. He was always there to support me and give me advice no matter what it was. From the time I was born to the day of his passing he had his hand in making me who I am today. I love you and I'm glad your where my father.

“ Going to miss you Dad. But I'm happy that you are in a better place knowing that you accepted Jesus and are not suffering anymore. Will never forget the golfing and fishing we did and the lessons you tried to teach me. I hope you catch that giant bass you were always missing and have a lot of stories to tell when I meet you on the other side of Heaven's gates. Love you and miss you already, Eric
