“ I'll miss you Ron! I remember my first day of work you and Patty were there. You said Kay told you that you weren't allowed to give me a hard time since it was my first day. The next day and every day after that however, the gloves were off. You told every joke and played every trick up your pant leg on me!!!! You must have made quite the impression! Even my daughter remembers you! I'll always remember all those great times sitting and talking to you both! <3
