“ *It's unfortunate that in English we don't have a word for the woman who is the mother of your son-in-law. In Yiddish it is Machatainista, in Spanish it's Consuegra. To us, Sara was just Johnny's Mom. A sweet, happy lady we saw at family events. But we felt we knew everything there was to know about her through Johnny. His memories of Sara at his baseball games and Christmas mornings and birthday parties and their shared love of hockey told us who she was. Sara was a mom. Making the effort and sacrifices and fun that moms do. Loving her family. And if her life's work was her children ... job well done. Johnny is everything that makes a mother proud. Sweet, caring, hard working, everyone's friend, and the best father and husband. Through Johnny sharing memories and stories of his mother, Sara will live on for Vaughn and Lydia. “ Condolences to her family! I went to grade school and high school with Sarah. She was a lovely person. I remember when she lived in that big house on south Penn street. May she be at peace in the Lords presence 🙏🙏
