“ My heart just hurts! I cannot wrap my brain around what a summer will be like without my sweet Virginia's random phone calls polka-dotted through my summer days. Selfish, I know, especially considering that she is right there with Jesus - who she loved so much as well as her son and husband. So envious of everyone who knew her for so many years...I only knew her for 5 short summers...and loved every minute I spent with her - in giving her rides, and during the afternoons (couldn't stop by in the mornings, as she would be at one track or another running - or walking fast) stopping by just to spend time with her. I'm going to miss her asking about my "cute-runner-boy", my soldier-sons and my precious grandbabies. I'm going to miss her phone calls - where she never said good bye when she was finished talking, but would always end them with "I love you, but you know that". Cannot wait to see her in Heaven!! What a precious gift God gave me, in my short acquaintance with my sweet Virginia...and cannot even imagine the loss for her daughters, her grandkids, and those who knew her for much longer than I. The last time I helped her pack to get ready to head back to Arizona, I found an old clothespin, and asked her if I could keep it, so that I would have something of her with me when she would leave for the winters. She was flattered that I would ask. Precious keepsake. :-) I hope I am just like her in the years to come.

“ mrs. Bohrer what an impact on people you cant remember all your teachers but we remember her She didn't take crap off anyone. If she liked you then you were in her heart. (there was many) I was 11 when my mother gave her a cornucopia arrangement filled with satin fruit .You could see her eyes light up ! I seen her 19 years later and she remembered me .I asked her if she still had the arrangement? She said absolutely I wouldn't take anything for it. That is when you know she loved it. I,ll miss ya. you can now teach in another place.

“ She was my 6th grade teacher at Powhatan Elementary in 1979. I have thought of her over the years. She was the kind of teacher that children should have today. She was very stern with her voice and ruler slapping the desk but an absolute wonderful teacher and human being. She was blessed with a long life and I am sure she continued to be a blessing to many after she retired. Prayers to her loved ones.

“ I remember her as a teacher in Powhatan Elementary also , only I think she taught opposite of Mrs. Ferry at the fifth grade level, I had her for some classes and what I remember most was those stern eyes and the beautiful gray hair, I was in the fifth grade in 1971. Wow she almost made it to one hundred may she rest in peace. Sending my condolences to her family!

“ Mrs. Bohrer was my 6th grade teacher at Powhatan Elem. I remember, Starla Nozica, Valerie Kriechbaum , Pixie Putsock, and I went and stayed the weekend with her, We had a blast in the big old house. She made us feel warm and welcome. We got to met her Granddaughter that weekend.. She was a warm, but stern lady with a huge heart. She definitely left a mark on many.. May God Bless her soul. Condolences to the entire Bohrer Family.

“ Mrs. Bohrer was one of my favorite teachers from Powhatan elementary school. She was always kind to the students but stern when she needed to be. She had a long loving life may she rest peacefully now.

“ Mrs Bohrer was one of the best teachers I ever had. She taught me more in 6yrs. at Highland School on Proctor Hill than all the teachers I had at Magnolia. She was a teacher that loved her students and wanted them to succeed in whatever they did. She always came and listened when we played at the nursing home. I would talk to her and she wanted me to go to her house so she could fix me dinner. I wished that could have happened. I will miss her. Our band was called True Country.

Mrs. Bohrer taught me at Powhatan Elementary in the fifth and sixth grades. She was very nice. I remember when her husband died...so sad. She had all of our class over to her beautiful old house for a picnic. It was true that she could be stern with the wise-cracking boys, but she needed to be. Many good memories of her.
